

The British usually change clothes at lunchtime. Change of clothes should be done daily. But the appearance on the streets in clothes made of animal fur is not welcome.

