

Linguists define four main aspects of stereotypes:

1. Stereotypes are simpler than reality.
2. People get stereotypes from other people or Mass Media but do not from by themselves on their own experience.
3. Most stereotypes are wrong as they refer to the whole group but not an individual.
4. Stereotypes are very enduring.